JUST LIKE THE THREE TWINS

Trio of Clarence Smiths Involved in Comedy of Errors.

WRONG ONE SLAMMED IN JAIL

Loses Job for Being Arrested, While Man Thought to Be Guilty is at Large—He Comments on the Jail Grab.

Mistaken identity, creating circumstances that would make a good foundation for a farce comedy, caused discomfiture among government officials, gave an alleged forger an opportunity to escape, and forced an innocent man to remain in jail overnight with an empty stomach.

The plot concerns three Omaha and South Omaha Clarence Smiths. Smith No. 1 of Omaha appeared before Postoffice Inspector Randall and told him that he had missed a letter containing a postal money order for $15. Randall investigated and found that the complainant's letter had been delivered to South Omaha Clarence Smith No. 2, who had opened it and appropriated the order, which was endorsed and cashed at the Hoffman saloon, Thirteenth and Douglas streets.

Haze Hunts for Clarence.

Inspector Randall swore out a commissioner's warrant charging Clarence Smith No. 2 with forgery and gave it to Captain Haze to serve. Haze went to South Omaha and found Clarence Smith No. 2, who was at work in the Armour packing house. When brought to the county jail Smith No. 3 was just in time to miss supper. Marshal Haze arranged for something to eat, but in some manner the jail attendants neglected the prisoner.
Yesterday morning when Smith was given breakfast in jail the food was so bad that he could not eat it, hungry as he was.

At 10 o'clock he was brought before Commissioner Daniel, who discovered he was the wrong Clarence Smith. In the meantime the Armour company had discharged him and he was hungry and broke, although free.

Matters Are Explained.

United States Attorney Howell wrote the Armour company a letter asking that Smith be reinstated and explained the mistake. Smith No. 2, accepted the apologies of the officials, but he is going to ask the court to change his name.
"The worst thing about the mess is the meal they offered me for breakfast in jail. I work on the slaughter gang and I have a strong stomach, but when it comes to the 'porterhouse steaks' they serve at the jail—good night."

Roosevelt Favors Board of Inquiry Into Labor Conditions

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Theodore Roosevelt in an editorial in the current issue of The Outlook on "A Phase of Industrial Justice," says:

"The president in a recent message has recommended the creation by congress of a commission to look into industrial conditions in this country. It is earnestly to be hoped that republicans and democrats, wise progressives and wise conservatives, will all back up this action."

"Such a commission could not but do good. If properly made up, it would approach the matter of industrial relations without prejudice as between employers' associations and labor unions. It would look at the matter from the point of view of the public interest, with concern to work for the prevention of unnecessary labor disputes and for settling those that do arise on a just and permanent basis."

"Undoubtedly the remedy must lie in large part in the action of the several states rather than in the federal government and undoubtedly it must also in large part be found in voluntary arrangements between employers and employees.
But only an inquiry by the federal government can be really satisfactory and cover all sides of the matter."

Woman Finds Thief Looting Her Room

Mrs. Margaret Higbee, 254 Cuming street, returned home Thursday night about 10 o'clock after having made a visit to a friend, and found a man in her apartment. In his hand he had a purse and was extracting all the money. When he saw the woman enter he gave a yell and bounded past her into the hall where he made his escape by running into the street. She notified the police and gave them a good description of the thief, who got away with $6.
